

LGBTQ+ Privacy & Civil Liberties

Katelyn Ringrose

McDermott Will & Emery

In her presentation, Katelyn Ringrose notes key findings regarding the protection of sensitive Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity (SOGI) data under U.S. law, revealing significant gaps in current legal protections. She relies on her, and others', research to canvas U.S. cases over the past century, discussing the rise of age verification laws across the U.S., and how such laws necessarily impact privacy and free expression. This presentation relies on the papers and presentations she's given in the past, as well as a recent US Supreme Court amicus brief on this topic, where she represented LGBT Tech alongside The Trevor Project, PFLAG, Inc., Bay Area Lawyers for Individual Freedom, Hacking the Workforce, and Fight for the Future.
