

Glynn Lunney was the Joseph Merrick Jones Chair at Tulane University School of Law, but has joined the new Texas A&M School of Law in Fort Worth. He holds an engineering degree from Texas A&M, a law degree from Stanford, and a Ph.D. in economics from Tulane. Professor Lunney teaches and writes in the fields of contract, property, and intellectual property, with a focus on the economic analysis of legal issues. He is an internationally recognized scholar, has published a casebook, TRADEMARKS AND UNFAIR COMPETITION (WEST 2010), and has also published numerous articles in leading law reviews, including reviews at Harvard, Stanford, Michigan, Virginia, Vanderbilt, Emory, and Tulane.