What do you remember most about your time in the Clinic?

The diversity of persons and the diversity of views on every single issue.

What lessons from the clinic do you still use today or have used in your professional career?

Everything! But most especially is empathy and resilience. No matter how bad a case looks, I learned from the clinic never to give up on clients who trust me to fight for them and their family.

How did your involvement with the clinic help you connect with other professionals in the field?

The clinic gave me the opportunity to learn the skills of public speaking. I built so much confidence after my participation in the clinic. That confidence has helped me connect easily with other professionals in the field.

What would you tell current or future DePaul law students about the clinic?

This is the most important and most meaningful experience you will ever get in law school. Please give it all you have.

Is there a message you would like to share with your fellow Clinic alums, faculty, or staff?

Those study times and ideas we shared prepared me so much for law practice. Without the clinic, and all of you, the practice of law would have been almost impossible for me. Thank you guys.

Is there anything else you would like to share about your clinic experience?

The thing I remember most about my time in DePaul is the clinic. The university gave me a JD, but the clinic made me a lawyer.
