Application Instructions

Introduction

DePaul University derives its title and fundamental mission from St. Vincent de Paul, who advocated the acceptance of all people and devoted his life to helping the disadvantaged lead dignified lives. At the College of Law, we seek diversity in students' special talents, qualities, interests and socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds. Having students with different interests, goals, life experiences, and backgrounds is critical in order to ensure the robust exchange of ideas that is called for in training lawyers and potential leaders. Toward this end, we seek a student body that exhibits outstanding academic and professional promise with varied backgrounds and experience.

DePaul University College of Law also is committed to improving the legal community by educating students who will serve the public and legal profession in ways that enhance the social, economic, cultural and ethical values in the broader community.

DePaul University has a nondiscriminatory admission policy; it is the policy of DePaul University that no person shall be the object of discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, sex, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, age, marital status, pregnancy, parental status, family relationship status, physical or mental disability, military status, genetic information or other status protected by local, state, or federal law in its employment or its educational settings.

Admission Policy

Admission to DePaul University College of Law is very competitive. We consider numerous factors in evaluating each applicant, including undergraduate academic performance, Law School Admission Test (LSAT) scores, advanced degrees, professional work experience, writing ability, potential for leadership, professional and academic recommendations and the student's special talents, qualities, interests, and socioeconomic and cultural background. No single factor is dispositive when determining admission.

Personal qualities that demonstrate intellectual depth, high ideals and diligence also are considered, as are economic, societal or educational obstacles that have been successfully overcome. Diversity in background and experience among the members of each entering class is a continuing objective. Having a diverse student body allows us to encourage and foster the exchange of different ideas. In addition, a candidate's prior relations with the DePaul University community and her or his potential for furthering DePaul's institutional goals are considered.

Last year, approximately 2,000 candidates applied for 200 seats in the full-time day program and 40 seats in the part-time evening program. Because applications are reviewed on a rolling basis, early application is highly recommended, especially for those who desire scholarship and financial aid consideration. For first-year applicants with no previous law school credit, admission is granted only for the fall semester. First-year applicants should ensure that their application and all necessary documents are on file in the Office of Admissions prior to the suggested deadline of March 1.

Prospective applicants who have received their baccalaureate degrees from accredited institutions or who have, or will have, received degrees prior to July of the year for which admission is sought are eligible to apply. In no event will anyone who has yet to receive a baccalaureate degree be permitted to enroll in the College of Law. No specific fields of study are prescribed at the baccalaureate level.

ELECTRONIC APPLICATION PROCESS INSTRUCTIONS

This document provides a general overview of the electronic application process and the materials that should accompany the application for admission. After reading all of the application instructions, please review the "Application Checklist" to obtain a list of the required documents.

Electronic Application

All applicants to the College of Law must submit all materials electronically through the Law School Admission Council (LSAC) and register with the LSAC Credential Assembly Service (CAS). We only accept applications submitted through the LSAC electronic application.

We will not accept any paper application materials or paper updates to your application. Paper materials and updates will not be retained or reviewed by the Admissions Committee and will be discarded. You are welcome to submit updates to your file electronically. Application update materials may be submitted to lawinfo@depaul.edu. Please include your name and LSAC account number on each attachment.
Disabled applicants in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process, or other applicants who require a paper application, should contact the Office of Law Admissions at 312.362.6831 or by emailing lawinfo@depaul.edu with their request.

Letter of Recommendation

One letter of recommendation is required for all applicants. Additional letters are welcome. We will accept up to four letters of recommendation. Letters of recommendation must be submitted through the Credential Assembly Service (CAS). Letters of recommendation from an applicant's college professors are particularly useful. Letters of recommendation may also be submitted by employers or colleagues who are in positions to make critical and informed appraisals of an applicant's qualifications.

Personal Statement

A personal statement is required and must be electronically attached to the application for admission. It should not exceed two pages, and may provide the Admissions Committee with information regarding such matters as intellectual interests and pursuits; personal, family or educational background, experiences and talents of special interest, reasons for applying to law school as they may relate to personal goals and professional expectations, or any other factors that will assist the committee's evaluation of the applicant's candidacy for admission. Applicants also may describe, either within the personal statement or as an addendum, how their admission would contribute to the diversity of the College of Law.

Résumé

A current résumé is strongly recommended and may be electronically attached to the application for admission. It should not exceed two pages. It should include a complete employment record and identify honors, scholarships and commendations received; membership in any scholastic, honorary and professional associations; as well as community, volunteer and extracurricular activities.

Law School Admission Test / Credential Assembly Service

All applicants must take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT). LSAT scores earned prior to June 2011 will not be accepted. In addition, all applicants must register with the Credential Assembly Service (CAS). Please visit the Law School Admission Council website at LSAC.org for additional information.

No Application Fee

There is no application fee to apply for JD admission.

Optional Specialized Sections of Legal Analysis

For first-year, full-time students only, the College of Law offers special sections of Legal Analysis, Research & Communication (LARC) with a focus on Child & Family Law, Intellectual Property Law (including traditional Intellectual Property, Information Technology, and Cultural Property/Art Law), and Public Interest Law.

Admission to these special sections is competitive. Students must apply for a seat in the Child & Family Law, Intellectual Property Law or Public Interest Law section of LARC at the same time they apply for JD admission. Interested students must indicate their interest by selecting the appropriate program on the application for admission.

Applicants may apply to only one section and also must electronically attach to the application a statement of no more than one page indicating the reason(s) for their interest in Child & Family Law, Intellectual Property Law, or Public Interest Law. Applicants will be informed of their acceptance into the desired section after they receive their letter of admission from the College of Law.

International Applicant Information

Applicants who have earned degrees or received diplomas from international institutions must submit all materials required of first-time Juris Doctor applicants.

In addition, applicants who have completed coursework or earned degrees from international institutions should submit their international transcripts through LSAC's Credential Assembly Service. This service is included in the standard Credential Assembly Service fee. International transcripts received will be sent to the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) where the transcript will be authenticated and analyzed. The data will be assembled into an International Credential Evaluation document that contains AACRAO's summary, copies of the transcripts (and translations, as necessary) and a TOEFL or IELTS score, if applicable.

Applicants who were educated in international countries, at institutions where English is not the primary language, must also register for the TOEFL (www.toefl.org) or IELTS (www.ielts.org). Applicants who register for the TOEFL must advise Educational Testing Service (ETS) to send their TOEFL score to DePaul University College of Law (institution code number 1165).

LSAC will incorporate the applicant's International Credential Evaluation, TOEFL or IELTS score and associated documents into the CAS report. While the College of Law strongly encourages international applicants to submit their international transcripts to CAS, we also will accept detailed evaluation reports from Educational Credential Evaluators (www.ece.org), World Educational Services (www.wes.org) or from any other member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (www.naces.org).

For additional information, including a copy of the Financial Affidavit of Support Form for International Students, please visit http://international.depaul.edu/admission/.

Two-Year JD for International Lawyers Program

Foreign-trained lawyers, and other graduates of non-U.S. law schools, may earn a JD degree in two years of full-time study. International applicants who have graduated from international law schools may receive up to 28 credit hours toward the JD degree. Applicants interested in the Two-Year JD for International Lawyers Program should NOT complete this online application, but should instead download the Two-Year JD application at http://law.depaul.edu/admission/jd-admission/Pages/international-applicants.aspx. The LSAT is not required for admission to this program. Applicants who do not meet the minimum qualifications for English proficiency may be granted conditional admission to the program.

Joint-Degree Programs

DePaul offers a number of joint-degree programs with colleges outside of the College of Law: the JD/MBA degree with the Kellstadt Graduate School of Business; the JD/MS in Public Services Management and the JD/MA in International Studies, both with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences Graduate School; the JD/MS in Computer Science with the College of Computing and Digital Media; and the JD/Master in International & European Business Law with Pontificia Universidad Comillas School of Law in Madrid, Spain.

Those seeking a joint-degree first must apply and be accepted for admission to the College of Law. Admission is made to the appropriate joint-degree program only after completion of the first-year core curriculum in the College of Law with above average academic achievement. Thereafter, if accepted into the joint-degree program, law students begin their joint-degree studies.

A separate application may be required for each program and should be submitted during the first year of law school. In addition, an entrance exam such as the GRE or GMAT may be required depending on the requirements of the program to which the applicant is applying.

More information about joint-degree programs is available at www.law.depaul.edu.

JD/LLM Program

DePaul's JD/LLM (Juris Doctor/Master of Laws) Program gives students an opportunity to develop knowledge and practice skills in a specific area of law, earning two degrees in only three years of full-time study. Students applying to the JD/LLM program should indicate their intent and the concentration to which they are applying (Health Law, Intellectual & Property Law, International Law or Taxation) in the designated area on the application form. Applicants must also submit a brief essay (no more than two pages) discussing the reason(s) for their interest in earning a JD/LLM in a specific area of law. Students may also apply to the JD/LLM program at any time during their enrollment in law school.

Transfer Applicant Information

DePaul University College of Law welcomes applications from students who will have completed, within the preceding two years, at least one year of study at another ABA-accredited law school. Transfer applicants may apply for admission to the day and evening programs during the fall and spring semesters. Transfer applicants admitted to the College of Law may receive up to 30 hours of credit toward the Juris Doctor degree. The determination of applicable credit is made upon admission. DePaul University College of Law does not have an articulation agreement with any university or law school program regarding transfer admission.

Students applying for transfer admission complete a separate online application than first-year applicants. Transfer applicants are required to submit the following: transfer student application form, one letter of recommendation from a law school professor, résumé, personal statement and current law school report from LSAC. In addition, transfer applicants must submit directly to the Office of Law Admissions: (1) letter of good standing indicating eligibility to return from all previously attended law schools; and (2) law school transcripts from all previously attended law schools. Class ranks are not required to evaluate an applicant's transfer application. While a transcript showing spring grades generally is required to review the application, the Admissions Committee may make an exception and grant a conditional admission based upon the applicant's strong academic performance in the fall semester.

In evaluating transfer applicants, the Admissions Committee will consider the applicant's undergraduate academic record, LSAT score, law school grades, personal statement, letter of recommendation and other information requested in the application.

Tuition and Fees for Academic Year 2016-2017 and Financial Aid

The tuition rate for the full-time day program is guaranteed for three consecutive years for first-year students who enroll in the 2017 fall semester. Tuition figures for fall 2017 will be released in spring 2017. All policies are under continual review. The Board of Trustees reserves the right to change tuition and fees as conditions require.

Financial Assistance

DePaul University and the College of Law provide a range of financial assistance in the form of loans and scholarships. Should you wish to apply for financial assistance, indicate your intent in the Application for Admission. Financial aid applications will be available shortly after October 1, 2016.

Scholarship Awards

All admitted students are automatically considered for applicable scholarship awards. No separate application is required. Dean's Scholarships are awarded to entering law students based upon their achievements, personal qualities and potential to contribute to the DePaul law community. Scholarship recipients are notified of their award in the acceptance letter.

Need-Based Assistance

To apply for loans, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is required and can be obtained after October 1, 2016 at colleges and universities or at the FAFSA website (www.fafsa.ed.gov). The FAFSA code for DePaul University College of Law is 001671. The FAFSA must be complete and on file in the Office of Financial Aid on or before March 1, 2017, in order to receive full consideration for DePaul-administered financial aid.
